Preserving the Great Marsh From Cape Ann to the New Hampshire Border

Dr. David Larson, Education Coordinator at Mass Audubon's Joppa Flats Education Center in Newburyport.

Dr. Larson has studied the natural history of the "Great Marsh" and has firsthand knowledge of the conservation issues impacting Plum Island and the areas which surround it, a vital topic, particularly after the storm disasters of this winter. He will discuss the environmental issues affecting Adelynrood's "neighborhood," the ecological factors involved, and the conservation initiatives which are being undertaken. Learn what is at stake and how to get involved!

For many years, David Larson has taken a leadership role in educating the public about birds and bird conservation. He is the Director of the Birder's' Certificate Program, a college-level ornithology course, offered at Joppa Flats as well as the Director of the Certificate Program in Bird Ecology which Mass Audubon conducts in Belize.

Lecture & Lunch: $30 per Person

Check-in begin at 9:15 am. Lunch will be served at 12:30 pm.
