MID -ATLANTIC CONFERENCE

Friday, October 23, 7 p.m. EDT to Saturday, October 24, 7p.m. EDT

Liberating Love through Prayer and Action

Sponsored by the Mid-Atlantic Chapters of the Society of the Companions of the Holy Cross

<https://www.adelynrood.org/2020-mid-atlantic-regional/>

The conference explores the divine power of love that is released through our Companion life of prayer, the love that stirs us to action. Liberating love changes our hearts and guides us as we continue to pursue social justice.

Ruby Nell Sales, civil rights activist and long distance runner is our presenter on Saturday morning. She teaches that racial justice must be rooted in love which prompts us to prayer and stirs us to action, saying, “We must be as clear about what we love as about what we hate, if we want to make change.” Peter and Rondesia Jarrett-Schell are Episcopal priests serving in Washington, D.C. Rondesia has over 20 years’ experience in anti-racism education, and Peter is the chair of the Reparations Task Force for the Diocese of Washington. They will guide our discussions in afternoon group sessions.
